Looking At Maryland Basketball

Coach Gary Williams

Looking at Maryland: From the balconey of McKeldin Library, Gary Williams admires the beauty of Campus. The Mall and Main Administration Building (background) are at the heart of the majestic College Park campus.

Looking at Maryland from a new perch is Head Coach Gary Williams. Oh, Williams has seen this campus before, having walked its tree-shaded paths as a student-athlete for the Terps in the mid-1960s. Now he surveys the campus again from a different perspective. A hard-working but never flashy point guard for the Terps, he returns now as the focal point of a resurging program. On and off the court, Gary Williams likes the view he sees. On the court it's a much brighter picture, thanks in part to the new lighting system installed in Cole Field House this summer. But the optimism, the hustle and the dedication Williams has brought to his post has brightened the outlook more intensely than any amount of additional wattage. Here's a Look at Maryland Basketball.

Before Your Visit

Game credentials are issued through the sports information office. Ivan Meltzer will coordinate the distribution of credentials and he asks that requests be made in writing on company letterhead at least four days prior to the game. It is perfectly acceptable to relay a credential request via the wonderful piece of modern office technology known as the fax machine. Our fax number is (301) 927-2052. When a request is received well in advance the credential and an appropriate parking pass will be mailed to the media representative. Because Cole is a hallowed hall, Ivan will screen requests carefully to insure a working press row.

Photographers, too, need to make their requests for credentials well in advance, the minimum being four days prior to the game. Please feel free to fax your credential requests at the number above. Photographers should be pleased to hear that the first order of business in an on-going refurbishment of Cole Field House was the installation this summer of a state-of-the-art lighting system. The new lights are color balanced for daylight. An exposure setting of /250 at f2.8 has been found to work well with ASA 400 film, with normal processing. With the new, considerably brighter, lighting system, there will be limits now placed on the numbers of sets of strobe lights that will be allowed in Cole. If you wish to hang strobes, alert Ivan in the sports information office well in advance of the game for approval. By Atlantic Coast Conference rules, the only court-level photography locations are along the baselines at the Northwest (Maryland team bench end/press row side) and Southeast corners of the court.

Interviews with student-athletes must be ordered through the sports information office. Either Ivan, Joe Blair or Herb Hartnett will be happy to arrange one-on-one interviews. They do request, however, 24 hours advance notice to insure the student-athlete's availability. Student-athletes also are available for brief, group interviews immediately before practice. The press should be reminded, though, that student-athletes' pre-practice schedules vary day to day and that in-depth interviews need to be arranged in advance. Student-athletes will return phone calls when requested. Their home phone numbers will not be distributed. Interviews will not be arranged through the basketball office.

Interviews with Coach Gary Williams or members of his staff also should be arranged through the sports information office. In-depth interviews should be arranged at least three days in advance and usually will be conducted in his office. Coach will make himself available for brief interviews on the court each day prior to practice.

Practices are open to the media with few exceptions. The team generally practices from 3-6 p.m. Monday through Friday. Weekend practice schedules vary and if media representatives wish to come out on weekends they should contact the sports information office ahead of time. Camera crews are welcome provided they do not interfere with practice.

Game Day

Press Parking is located on the concourse level of Byrd Stadium. Media should enter the autogate on Stadium Drive between the back of Cole and Byrd. Press will-call is at the back door entrance to Cole.

Press credentials that were not mailed can be picked up there. A working press area is located one level above the court in the wrestling team lounge. Pre-game and halftime food and beverage service is available in that room.

Post game interviews will be held in a newly-refurbished interview room on the court-level just off the tunnel. Coaches from both competing teams — winner first — will be brought to the interview area. Following Coach Williams' post-game remarks, the Maryland lockerroom will be open for a brief period for player interviews. The visiting team's lockerroom interview policy will be dictated by officials of that school. Media will receive a complete booklet of information — first half and full boxscores, play-by-play and post-game quotes — immediately following each game. Again the fax machine is available post-game for media that would like to transmit box-scores or stories via that method.

A wrap-up of each Maryland game is on the Terphone (301) 454-TERP.

Mr. Versatility: Walt Williams will play forward and guard.

President

Dr. William E. Kirwan

As president of the University of Maryland College Park (UMCP), Dr. Kirwan leads a campus of nearly 37,000 students. Seven of its academic programs — art, history, physics, mathematics, computer science, electrical engineering, zoology, and economics — rank among the top ten of such programs of public universities nationwide.

In competitive awards of federal grants, UMCP ranks fourth in the nation among public university campuses without a medical school. It ranks first on the East Coast and 10th among public universities in the number of prestigous fellowships awarded to faculty during the past five years.

Dr. Kirwan joined the University of Maryland College Park in 1964 as an assistant professor of mathematics. He rose through the faculty ranks as associate professor (1968-72), professor (1972-present) and chairman (1977-81).

In 1981, he was appointed to the campus's chief academic post, vice chancellor for academic affairs. He served as acting chancellor for four months in 1982 and returned in November to his vice chancellor position. He was appointed provost in 1986. With the birth of the new University of Maryland System, he became vice president for academic affairs in 1988 and also was appointed acting president that year.

A native of Louisville, KY, Dr. Kirwan received a bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky in 1960. He went to school on a football scholarship and his father was Kentucky head coach. He holds a master's degree (1962) and a Ph.D. (1964) from Rutgers University. All of his degrees are in mathematics.

Dr. Kirwan, 50, and his wife, Patricia, live in Silver Spring, MD. Their son has a bachelor's and a master's degree in architecture from the College Park campus; their daughter is a junior at the campus.

Director of Athletics

Lew Perkins

Perkins is an athletic administrator who has gained national notice for his commitment to the education of the student-athlete, and for his ability at infusing new growth into once successful programs.

Perkins earned his way to Maryland and the Atlantic Coast Conference by building one athletic department from its beginning (South Carolina at Aiken, 1969-1980), infusing a traditional program with record-setting growth (Pennsylvania, 1980-1983), and rebuilding the fortunes of Wichita State (1983-1987). He was selected by the Arizona Republic as one of the nation's best athletic directors while at Wichita State, and in a unique pronouncement, the NCAA cited Wichita State for running an exemplary program.

Among Perkins's initial decisions at Maryland was to create an Academic Support Unit that continues to get top priority in any Terrapin athletic plans. Given the job of adjusting the academic scales in the athletic department, he created awards for classroom oriented student-athletes, opened up the department to in-put from the faculty, and students, and implemented campus policies designed to strengthen academics.

The just completed school year saw Perkins inaugurate The Maryland Partnership, a matching gifts program between the state and friends of University athletics. Maryland is now raising $12 million in private donations to match $7 million in state funds. Of these monies, $16 million is to go to the refurbishment of the Byrd Stadium complex.

On-field success in 1988-1989 was highlighted by the women's basketball and men's lacrosse teams reaching their NCAA Final Four competitions. Maryland hosted the Lacrosse Final Four, and it has been awarded the NCAA Wrestling and Volleyball championships in 1990, and first and second round NCAA men's basketball games in 1991.

He is married to the former Gwen Flaum. Like Lew, she earned both an undergraduate degree from Iowa and a master's degree in education from the University of South Carolina. They have two daughters, Amy, 18, a Maryland student, and Holly, 16.

The Terps top returning scorer and rebounder, Tony Massenburg (top) and the sports information staff (l-r: Chuck Walsh, Herb Hartnett, Ivan Meltzer, joe blair, Rose Pietrzak and Dee Stough) offer you this Look at Maryland Basketball.

The Maryland Men's Basketball Media Guide was written and edited by Ivan Meltzer. Editorial assistance and recommendations provided by the entire Maryland sports information staff, (Herb Hartnett, joe f. blair, Rose Pietrzak, Chuck Walsh and Dee Stough.) The book was designed with the considerable expertise of Charlie Guillette. Cover design was courtesy of David Pfeiffer. The cover photos were taken by Ed Mahan and Bruce Schwartzman. Interior photos are the work of talented photogs Brian Lewis, Larry Crouse, Mitchell Layton, Theresa Kramer and Schwartzman. The book was printed at Colonial Lithograph, whose owner and employees all displayed more patience with this project that any customer has a right to expect. As always, the sports information office is indebted to the University's Paula Mandelman for her assistance.

The History

The university began in Baltimore in 1807 as a faculty-owned College of Medicine, which granted the M.D. degree. Five years later, more degrees were added when the college was renamed the University of Maryland. The first dental school in America, the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, became a part of the university in 1840. Later, the university opened schools of pharmacy, law and nursing.

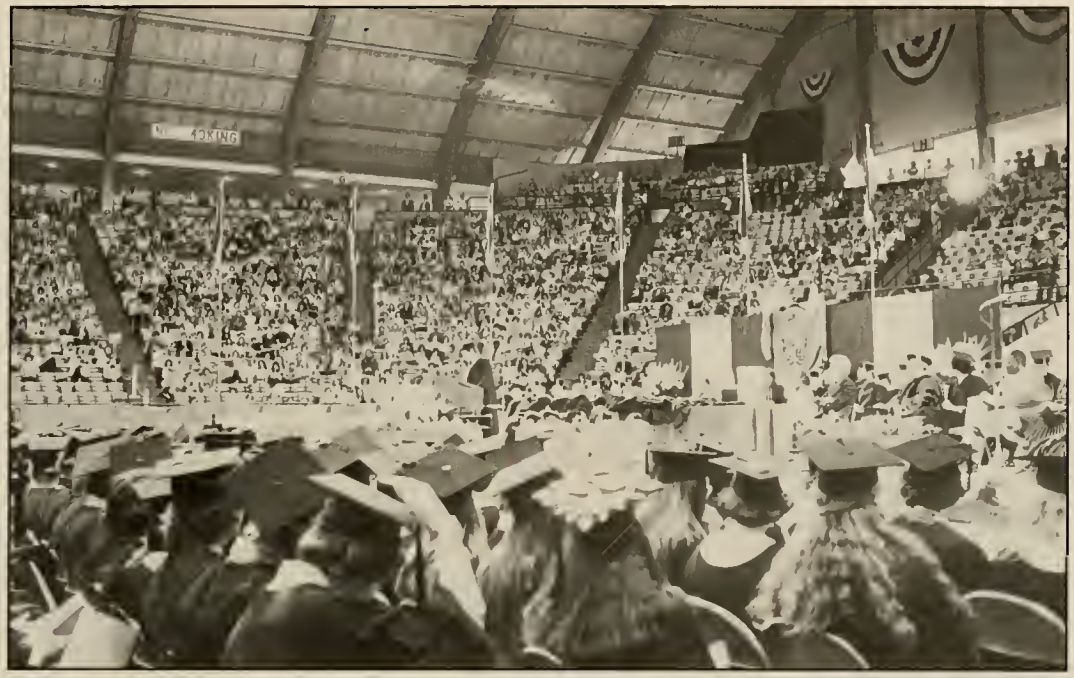
The College Park campus opened in 1859 under a charter secured in 1856 by a group of Maryland planters. Then called the Maryland Agricultural College, it became one of the original land-grant schools in 1865. After a disastrous fire in 1912, the State acquired control of the college and paid to rebuild it.

Until the 1988 reorganization of higher education in Maryland, the University of Maryland dated back to a 1920 act of the State legislature that joined the state-owned institution at College Park (UMCP) with the professional schools in Baltimore (UMAB). Three other campuses were added later: Baltimore County (UMBC), Eastern Shore (UMES), and University College (UMUC), the worldwide campus headquartered in College Park.

July 1, 1988 marked the end of one era in public higher education in the State of Maryland and the dawn of another. In April, 1988 the State Legislature passed Senate Bill 459, the 1988 Action Plan for Higher Education. As a result, the five campuses comprising the former University of Maryland were merged with six institutions of the Maryland Board of Trustees of State Universities and Colleges. The new University of Maryland System was officially born on July 1, and as part of the law that created the new system, the State designated College Park as the flagship campus of the state.

The Faculty

The reputation of any major university is based on the caliber of its faculty. College Park faculty are leaders in their fields, as confirmed by the impressive number of Pulitzer Prizes, Guggenheim Fellowships and National Medals of Science awarded to them. Faculty here have pioneered the use of lasers in the operating room, written the definitive biographies of William Shakespeare and black educator Booker T. Washington, and founded a campus chorus that is internationally acclaimed. Undergraduates can work directly with these experts - from their very first term at College Park to their last. The student to teacher ratio is approximately 16 to 1 - as low as that at many small colleges. College Park professors will challenge you to think, to question assumptions and assertions, to explore and to discover.

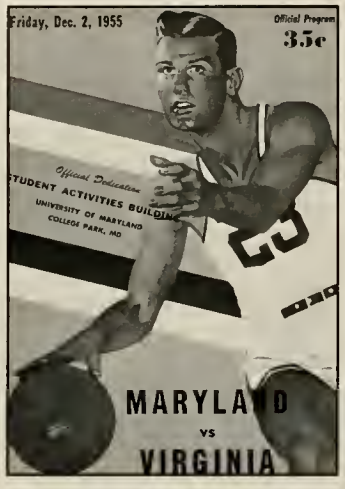


The Students

Maryland students are a diverse group of motivated men and women. And the time they spend outside the classroom is critical to their success. Campus life at College Park means an award-winning student newspaper and FM radio station, championship athletic teams and intramural sports programs, Phi Beta Kappa and professional societies, and a University Theatre hailed by The Washington Post as one of the best in the metropolitan area.

The Locale

Nine miles from the nation's capital, College Park sits at the doorstep of some of the country's most important landmarks and institutions - from the United States Senate and the Smithsonian to the Library of Congress and the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. College Park is only a short drive from Baltimore - a great historical city and center of commerce, famed for its arts and architecture, new National Aquarium and colorful Inner Harbor. College Park's relationship with these two exceptional cities is not just one of proximity. Undergraduates receive hands-on experience at some of our most prominent agencies and governmental institutions - including NASA, the National Archives, and Congress itself. Because of its unique location College Park is also able to draw upon Nobel Prize winners, cabinet members, and internationally renowned scientists, artists, and writers who come to the campus to share their knowledge.



December 2, 1955
Cole Field House Dedication
Maryland 67, Virginia 55

When college basketball was achieving its most explosive growth—from the late 1950s to the 1970s—there was one college gymnasium on the East Coast that sat as many as 12,000 fans. Cole Field House epitomized the new big time, main event status of college hoops, the sport of network TV and emerging legends. It stands today as a building that faces cosmetic renewal over the next several years, but Cole's charisma will not be tampered with; there was not a bad seat in the house on Dec. 2, 1955, when it was dedicated in a game against Virginia, and there is not a better place to watch a game today. Only in a building like Cole, where history has been routinely made, can the fan feel the echo of tradition, and experience, even in an empty Cole, the electricity generated by buzzer beaters and a thousand slam dunks.

Cole was dedicated as the Student Activities Center, a $3.3 million project that was erected under the tutelage of Board of Regents Chair, Judge William P. Cole, Jr., and President Wilson Elkins. A year after the dedication, the building was named in honor of Cole, who served the Board of Regents for 25 years.

Although Cole has remained the same basketball hall it was built to be, there have been refinements. Scoreboards were installed during the off-season that will not only tell the fan what the score is, but also how loud they are cheering. Cole's seating also grew from its original base, and 14,500 fans can now root for the Red and White at any game.

As championships were awarded over the years, Cole got some of the very best. The 1966 and 1970 Men's Basketball Final Fours were held here. In 1991, first and second round NCAA games will be hosted. The NCAA Wrestling Championship was held here in 1960, 1972, 1978, and 1987, and is to be held at Cole in 1990.

Cole Field House houses most of the athletic department offices, and yearly hosts thousands who visit just to see where so much hoop history has been made.

Terp Traditions

Testudo, a Diamondback Turtle whose name is derived from the scientific classification for turtle (testudines), is the mascot of the University of Maryland. Testudo's flight to become official mascot was (there is no other description) slow. But once on top, Testudo has reigned with a bronze-like grip, peering at generations of younger Terps crossing in front of, or entering, the Theodore R. McKeldin Library in the heart of the College Park campus. The 500 pound terrapin's days of roving to conquer rival campuses at the behest of the College Park student body are over, his undisturbed regal bearing insured by his being bolted to a concrete throne.

The need for a mascot was essential in the early 1920s in a world littered with Wildcats, Tigers, Devils, Wolves, Bears, and all sorts of traditional names derived from a half-century of college athletics. Maryland was consolidated from different state schools in 1920 to form the base of today's wide-ranging state system and it needed a flag-carrier to do battle with Wahoos, Lions, and Generals.

Dr. H.C. Byrd, the University President in 1922, recommended the Diamondback as mascot in response to the student newspaper's search for an "official" leader. Although his suggestion was, indeed, "official," there were some who resisted, opting for the older and historically entrenched term, Old-Liners. A label derived from the Revolutionary War when Maryland soldiers earned the accolade for bravery and perseverence in the face of British troops, Old-Liners had a more vocal lobby than the speechless turtle.

Testudo

By 1935, however, the Yearbook had changed its name from Reveille to Terrapin by a vote of the student body, and save for some splintered resistance, Testudo's family had won. Newspapers, even then exploring every angle, shortened Terrapin to Terp, but Testudo by any name is still a turtle.

Samuel P. Gorham of Providence, R.I., cast Testudo in bronze at the request of the Class of 1933. He was modeled after a feisty Diamondback that came from Dr. Byrd's hometown of Crisfield. Dr. Byrd's choice of mascot was not intended to reflect the docility of Maryland teams. As a small boy near his home he surely found out what so many others have discovered about Terrapins — they bite.

Colors

The colors of the University of Maryland are those of the state flag—gold, red, black and white.

Maryland's flag bears the arms of the Calvert and Crossland families. Calvert was the family name of the Lords Baltimore who founded Maryland, and their colors of gold and black appear in the first and fourth quarters of the flag. Crossland was the family of the mother of George Calvert, first Lord Baltimore. The red and white Crossland colors, with a Greek cross terminating in the foils, appear in the second and third quarters. The flag was first flown in its present form October 25, 1888, at Gettysburg Battlefield for ceremonies dedicating monuments to Maryland regiments of the Army of the Potomac. It was offically adopted in 1904. Maryland law requires that if any ornament is affixed to the top of a flagstaff carrying the Maryland flag, the ornament must be a gold cross bottony.

Like the long trek of Testudo to become mascot, the trip for these colors to arrive as "official" was marked by factionalism. By the post World War II years, there was disgruntlement from the press and others that Maryland's fooball uniforms were difficult to read, and Old Gold and Black were deemed the colors, even though red had been an official color. By the time of Coach Jim Tatum's matchless era of success, which included a National Championship in 1953, the football team was back in red. Today's Maryland football teams incorporate all the colors of the state flag, although the predominate University of Maryland "fight" color is red.

Head Coach Gary Williams

"I never thought I would have the opportunity to coach at Maryland because you very rarely get that opportunity (to coach at your alma mater). You go away and coach and think, 'If I ever had the chance to coach at Maryland it would be great,' but as the years go by you don't think you'll ever get the chance."

On June 13, 1989 Gary Williams got that chance. And with his voice cracking with emotion, Williams realized a "dream" by accepting the head coaching job at the University of Maryland — an opportunity which he often thought of in "what ifs," instead of "whens."

In becoming the seventh coach in the storied history of Maryland basketball, Williams brings one of the most respected backgrounds in his profession to College Park. It is a respect that is based in part on numbers: He has won 207 games against 128 defeats (.617) in his 11 years as a head coach. He has coached three different schools to post-season tournament bids, taking American to two National Invitation Tournaments, Boston College to two NCAA Tournaments and an NIT, and Ohio State to an NCAA Tournament and a pair of NIT bids. Never have his teams won fewer than 13 games in a season and six times his squads have won 20 or more in a season.

Truly, though, the numbers portray only a glimpse of the career. The respect Williams enjoys among his fellow coaches and national athletics administrators is based on more than the victories his teams generate. That respect is based more on the ideals of honesty and integrity that surrounds each of the programs of which he has been involved. His student-athletes graduate with meaningful degrees. He is forthright and open with media and fans, qualities that endear him to both constituencies. Gary Williams has shown at American, Boston College and most recently at Ohio State that he can develop a program, he can administer a program, that he can nurture a sense of pride and commitment in his players and in a school community. In "athletics-ese," Gary Williams is a "winner."

Williams also brings the prospective of an alumnus and former player, lending a sense of genteel confidence to his task which only a person comfortable with himself and his surroundings can muster. In fact, the first thing he did at the press conference announcing his appointment — after displaying a replica of his old game jersey and slipping on a coaching jacket — was to greet his old friends in the audience.

As an undergrad at Maryland, Williams was a three-year starter for H.A. "Bud" Millikan, a disciple of Hall of Fame coach Henry Iba at Oklahoma State. In his three seasons, Williams played in 74 of Maryland's 76 games, helping the Terps to a 43-33 record during that span. Never a great scorer — his career average was 4.5 points a game — Williams set the defensive tone for those Maryland teams. The intense 94-feet of man-to-man defensive pressure that was his trademark as a player has become his signature as a head coach.

Pre-season exhibition or post-season tournament, Gary Williams is the same on the sidelines every game — intense.

Williams' coaching career included a high school state championship and seven seasons as a college assistant before taking a head position — the top spot at American University. The Williams years at AU were memorable ones. His 1981 squad set a school record for victories with a 24-6 slate, won the East Coast Conference Championship and played in the NIT. A year later, the Eagles went 21-9 and made a return trip to the NIT. In four years at AU, Williams' teams were 72-42.

In 1983, he moved on to Boston College, leading those Eagles to a 25-7 record, the Big East Conference regular season title and the NCAA "Sweet 16" that first season. Three of Williams' BC teams would go on to play in the post season, twice earning their way to the final 16.

In 1987, Williams accepted the head coaching position at Ohio State, and immediately was a success. His first Buckeyes squad upended then-Number 1 and unbeaten Iowa in the regular season. It would be the first of many giant-killings by the Williams-led Buckeyes. Other big wins would come over second-ranked Purdue, perennial power Kansas, and highly regarded Big 10 foes Michigan and Illinois.

Now Williams, 43, comes to Maryland. In doing so he becomes the first person to direct basketball programs in the three elite conferences in college hoops — the Atlantic Coast, the Big East and the Big 10. His 11 years as a head coach have been marked with unparalleled success — by any definition. His years at Maryland will be likewise defined.

Billy Hahn

Assistant Coach

Billy Hahn remembers the glory years of Maryland basketball. He was there on the Sunday afternoons when the great Maryland teams of the mid-1970s met the great North Carolina State teams. He knows first hand that sports fans the following Mondays were talking about the Terps basketball games and not about the Super Bowls that followed it.

Now Hahn is ready to orchestrate similar excitement in Maryland hoops as part of the Terps coaching staff.

When Hahn played at Maryland, from 1971-75, the Terps were one of the nation's most dominant teams. He was part of a National Invitation Tournament championship in 1972, a member of the team that lost arguably the greatest ACC game of all time — 103-100 in triple overtime to N.C. State in 1973 — and he shared in the triumph of captaining his senior team to the third round of the NCAA Tournament in 1975.

When his career continued as a coach, big wins, a few more heartbreaking losses and continued success in the NIT and NCAA tournaments continued as well.

Now he returns to College Park to aid in the resurgence of one of the country's great hoops programs. It's a program he knows well and loves deeply.

For the past three years, Hahn was the head coach at Ohio University, compiling a 42-45 overall record and always fielding competitive teams in the under-appreciated Mid-American Conference. Last year he coached the MAC Player of the Year, Paul Graham. Throughout his three years, 100 percent of his senior players earned their degrees.

Prior to his being named head coach, Hahn was for six years the Ohio University assistant, aiding Danny Nee's staffs as its primary recruiter and a savvy court coach. For four years those OU teams posted 20 win seasons, while twice earning trips to the NCAA Tournament and once to the NIT.

Prior to his stint at Ohio, Hahn was for three years an assistant at Rhode Island (1977-80), where he recruited and coached future New York Knicks star Sly Williams, and before that an assistant at Davidson College (1976-77) and Morris Harvey College in West Virginia (1975-76).

Hahn, who has earned a reputation as a tireless recruiter, was an equally relentless player. Recruited out of Mishawaka, Ind. — the first Maryland player from the tradition-rich Hoosier state — Hahn starred for the Terps' 1971 freshman team. But in 1972, the Terps recruited a point guard of some repute by the name of John Lucas. Two years later another one by the name of Brad Davis came along. Billy Hahn became a reserve, but handled his fate with typical enthusiasm, becoming the team's vocal leader if not its statistical one.

Recounting the game: Hahn as head coach at Ohio University.

Now, 19 years later, Terps' Coach Gary Williams re-recruited Hahn to Maryland. Williams can only hope that Hahn brings similar success this time around.

Specifics: 36 (6-22-53)

Education: B.S. Distributive Education, with a minor in business administration, University of Maryland, 1975

Playing Experience: Three-time letterman for the University of Maryland. Team captain in 1974-75. He earned the Alvin Aubinoe Career Contribution Award as a senior and was a member of the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 1974-75.

Coaching: Morris Harvey College, Assistant Coach, 1975-76; Davidson College, Assistant Coach, 1976-77; University of Rhode Island, Assistant Coach, 1977-80 (1979 NIT appearance); Ohio University, Assistant Coach, 1980-86 (1983 & 1985 NCAA Tournament appearances, 1986 NIT appearance); Ohio University, Head Basketball Coach, 1986-89 (three-season record of 42-45).

Personal: Hometown is Mishawaka, Indiana. He is married to the former Kathi Sheehy and the couple has two children: Matthew, 11, and Ashley, 6.

Like his current boss, Hahn knows how to get his players' attention.

Hahn was a tri-captain in 1974-75 with Tom Roy (L) and Owen Brown.

Roger McCready

Assistant Coach

When Gary Williams was coaching at American University, he tried recruiting a special player, a classic over-achiever, out of Brooklyn, NY. It was a brief courtship.

One call to the McCready household from Williams told the coach all he needed to hear. Roger McCready, the second son of Joyce McCready was bound for Boston College and the 17-year-old was not willing to change his mind. End of conversation.

In the end, though, McCready did play for Williams — at Boston College, where Williams accepted the head coaching job prior to McCready's freshman year. In four years, the coach and player developed a rapport that neither would have thought possible after that one recruiting phone call.

Several years later Williams phoned again.

McCready as BC's leading scorer.

The fact that on July 11, 1989, Roger McCready was named assistant basketball coach for the University of Maryland proves he wasn't about to say no to Williams again.

At 25, McCready feels fortunate to have a shot to coach in the ACC. But despite his relative youth, he has paid his dues to get here.

As a player he learned fast and well, earning individual honors and leading Boston College to some of its most successful seasons. As an assistant coach, he already has worked for some of the most established coaches on the East Coast — John Calipari of Massachusetts, Dick Kuchen of Yale and Wally Halis of Columbia. Each step of the way, he's known success.

McCready grew up in Brooklyn, NY, playing pick-up games with neighbors like Walter Berry, Mark Jackson and Chris Mullin. He could have joined those guys at St. John's University, but opted for Boston College, where he felt he would be better able to mix his basketball career and academic opportunities.

At BC he did it all. Some teams have two or three "role" players. BC and Williams had McCready, who played a multitude of roles on the team. When the Eagles needed rebounding, McCready rebounded. When they needed a little extra on defense, he was there. As a senior and with BC reeling from the graduation of its top two scorers, McCready became a scorer, averaging 19 points a game and earning second team All-Big East.

Throughout his position switches and changed roles, McCready was the consummate team leader, forcing his over-achieving style on a team that often played above expectations in advancing twice to the NCAA Tournament Sweet 16. His teammates — among them Michael Adams, Dominic Pressley and Jay Murphy — often exhibited more flash on the court, but McCready was the team's leader.

His sociology degree secured in 1986, McCready's coaching career began. He worked for a year on the staff at Columbia University. The following season he joined the staff at Yale, where he coached Chris Dudley, helping the center hone his game to such a degree that the Cleveland Cavaliers drafted the little-known Ivy League star in 1987. Last year he was one of the two full-time assistants at Massachusetts.

McCready is the ideal complement to fellow assistant Billy Hahn on the Maryland staff. Where Hahn hails from the sleepy farming community of Mishawaka, Ind., McCready calls the Borough of Brooklyn home. Where Hahn as a player was the Terps' vocal leader, McCready the player was the quiet, confident floor leader. Together they should complement the Maryland basketball staff equally well.

Specifics: 25 (2-18-64)

Education: B.S. Sociology, Boston College, 1986

Playing Experience: Four-year letterwinner at Boston College, where he played for Gary Williams. He was team captain in 1985-86 and earned second team All-Big East and honorable mention All-America that season as the team's leading scorer. Twice in his playing career, Boston College advanced to the NCAA Tournament round of 16.

Coach McCready: Always intense.

Coaching: Columbia University, Assistant Coach, 1986-87; Yale University, Assistant Coach, 1987-88; University of Massachusetts, Assistant Coach, 1988-89.

Personal: Hometown is Brooklyn, New York. McCready is single.

The Gary Williams-led Eagles had talent: McCready (20), Dominic Pressley (32) and Michael Adams (23) was the nucleus.

Adam Preyer

Part-Time Coach

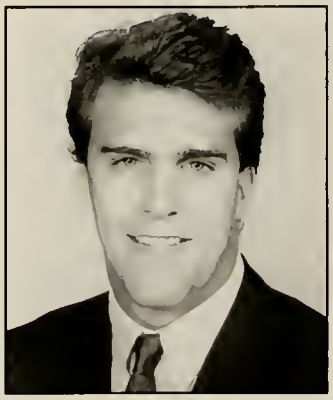
Adam Preyer, who last year was the graduate assistant coach for former Maryland coach John Kochan, this year joins the Terps staff as part-time coach for former Terp player and current coach Gary Williams.

Preyer coached under Kochan at Millersville University, which finished the year with a 26-7 record and secured the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference and Eastern Regional championships. In addition to his Millersville experience, Preyer has coached at numerous national basketball camps, including the nationally-recognized 5-Star Camp last summer in Radford, Va.

Preyer, a native of Greensboro, N.C., graduated from Roanoke College in 1988 with a degree in English. He was a four-year basketball letterman, leading the Maroons to three conference titles. As a senior he was the team's co-captain.

At Maryland, Preyer will be involved with all aspects of the Terps' program. He will assist with on-court coaching, scouting and game preparation, academic monitoring and recruiting coordination among other duties. While it is true that Preyer coordinated the Terps travel this season, there is no truth to the rumor that he canceled previously scheduled games in order to book the Terps in Hawaii over the Christmas holiday.

Michael Gielen



Volunteer Coach

Fresh from a four-year Ivy League playing career, Mike Gielen assumes the volunteer post on the Maryland staff this year. In doing so, Gielen begins his coaching career in the same area where he was once one of the top high school players.

As a prep, Gielen attended famed DeMatha High School, which he led to the 1984 national high school championship. In 1985, his senior season, he was nominated as a McDonald's All-America and earned DeMatha's Horace Mann Scholar Athlete Award. A 4.0 high school student and all-star basketball player, Gielen chose Harvard University at which to continue his athletic and academic pursuits.

Gielen excelled in the Ivy League. He led the league in steals and assists last year and was voted the Crimson's best defensive player and Most Valuable Player. He captained the Harvard squad as a junior and senior, becoming the first two-time captain in the school's history. He finished his Harvard career as the school's seventh all-time leading scorer.

Though he played in the Ivy League, Gielen has made his way around a good portion of the ACC via the summer camp circuit. Among the camps at which he has worked as a counselor and coach is Terry Holland's Virginia Basketball Camp and Mike Krzyzewski's Duke Camp.

At Maryland, besides undoubtedly taking part in Gary Williams' Basketball Camp, Gielen will work with all phases of the Terps program. He also will begin taking graduate courses toward a master's degree in sports management.

Peter Sauer

Administrative Assistant

Handling the day-to-day administrative duties of Maryland's basketball operation is Peter Sauer, who joins the staff with a solid background in athletic administration.

Sauer was the assistant athletic director for development and communications at the University of Maryland-Baltimore County last year. In that capacity, he coordinated all marketing efforts over the course of a very successful UMBC season.

Sauer orchestrated the revamping of UMBC's corporate sponsorships, one end result of which was the broadcasting of four Retriever games on television — a University first. His efforts in other areas helped secure for UMBC its most productive year ever at the gate. The school set single game and season attendance records during the 1988-89 season.

In other areas, Sauer managed the Retriever Golf Classic, the athletic department's largest fundraising event. Last year, the Classic generated 300 percent more income than the previous year.

Prior to his work at UMBC, he was an assistant to the general manager at the Patriot Center, George Mason University's home basketball arena. There he assisted in all areas of event and facility management.

Those skills will serve him well in College Park. Among Sauer's duties for the Terps will be coordination of the facilities and schedules and game management. He also will coordinate team travel and will assist with the organization of the Gary Williams Basketball Camp.

Like his boss, Gary Williams, Sauer is a graduate of Maryland, earning a bachelor of arts degree in government and politics in 1981. He went on to earn his law degree in 1987 from the University of Nebraska College of Law.

Bill Saylor

Assistant Trainer

Providing the day-to-day injury-prevention care to the Maryland basketball team is trainer Bill Saylor, who is in his third year as chief trainer for the team.

One of four full-time assistants to Head Trainer J.J. Bush, Saylor works with most of Maryland's athletic teams, and supervises the training of the men's basketball team, specifically.

Saylor coordinates and supervises the team's off-season conditioning regimen. He travels with the team and supervises all rehabilitative efforts in the advent of an injury.

As a former varsity athlete in football and wrestling, Saylor has first hand knowledge of the importance of preventative medical care in the success of an athletes' career. Saylor was a letterearning wrestler for three years and a football safety for one year at Delaware. He graduated from Delaware in 1980 with a Bachelor of Science in physical education. He earned his master's degree in phyiscal education from Virginia in 1983.

Prior to coming to Maryland, Saylor served as a trainer in the Sports Medicine Department of the U.S. Naval Academy for three years. He also worked on a part time basis as a trainer with the Washington Redskins for three years.

Saylor, 37, is married to the former Patricia Bird.

Specifics: 37 (9-22-52)

Dr. Sanford Lavine

Team Physician

Dr. Lavine's role at Maryland has been to make the Terrapins go, whether as an undergraduate standout in football, or as the team physician for almost three decades.

A native of Pittsburgh where he attended Schenley High School, Dr. Lavine matriculated at Maryland to prepare for his medical career, and played initially for the immortal Clark Shaughnesy, one of football's great innovators. By the time of his 1950 graduation, he had led Maryland under Head Coach Jim Tatum to a 9-1 record and a 20-7 win over Missouri in the Gator Bowl as the team's quarterback. After graduating from the University's Medical School, he interned in hospitals in Philadelphia and Cleveland, served two years in the Air Force, and then began his orthopedic medical practice and work with Maryland's athletic teams.

Dr. Lavine attends all football games, home basketball games and some road games, and he is on call at all times for the athletes on the University's 23 sports teams. His professional reputation is national in scope, and many prominent athletes have sought his treatment. He was team physician for the Washington Redskins (1975-1985), and was there for two Super Bowls. He was the team physician for the Washington Bullets when they won the NBA Championship. He is the team physician for the Washington Diplomats soccer team. He presentley works at Sibley Hospital in Washington, D.C.

Frank Costello

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Frank Costello is entering his ninth year as head strength and conditioning coach here at the University of Maryland, having assumed the position in 1981.

Costello is no stranger to the University. He served as Head Track and Field Coach for Maryland from 1974-81 before moving on to his current position. Prior to 1974, he was an assistant track coach from 1969-74. As head mentor, Costello's teams won an ACC Championship and Indoor and Outdoor IC4A Championships. He has worked with a number of world class athletes, including hurdler and world record holder, Renaldo Nehemiah. In 1976, his long jumpers were one, two, and three in the IC4A's.

As New Jersey state high jump champion, Costello came to Maryland and made immediate contributions to the program. He was undefeated in the ACC, IC4A, and NCAA competition in 1965, winning both indoor and outdoor NCAA titles. His list of accomplishments includes titles in the Penn Relays, Milrose Games, Eastern European Championships, Southern Hemisphere Games and the French National Championships. In 1966, he was the third-ranked high jumper in the world.

In addition to coaching, Costello has been the author of numerous articles on track and field, including six articles published for Scholastic Magazine, four in the Athletic Journal, and two more in Track Technique Magazine.

Costello and his wife, Sherry, reside in Bowie, Md.

MITCH KASOFF

Senior, Guard
6-1, 180
Baltimore, Maryland

ON KASOFF — One of only two seniors on the squad with any appreciable playing experience ... a former walk-on whose hard work and dedication earned him a scholarship in June '88 ... can play either guard spot, but is best suited for the off-guard position ... despite unconventional form, he possesses an accurate outside jump shot ... he will have to assume a portion of the leadership role this season, given the Terps roster includes seven first or second year players.

AS A JUNIOR

Played in 15 ballgames — a career high ... got off to an auspicious start in his season debut against Maryland-Eastern Shore, scoring seven points, dishing for three assists and grabbing two rebounds in just eight minutes of court time ... he also had one steal and was perfect from the floor (2 for 2) in that game ... he also played a season-high eight minutes against No. 15 North Carolina State ... his 11 points last year tied his 1986-87 season total ... his total last season of six rebounds — three each on the offensive and defensive glass — tripled his previous career rebounding total ... despite his diminutive size, his hustle earns him appreciation from the Cole Field House faithful, who often take to chanting his name when he enters games.

AS A SOPHOMORE

Played in six ballgames and averaged just under a point a game ... was instrumental on Maryland's scout team ... scored a season-high two points against East Carolina and Arkansas ... action was limited late in the year when he suffered a broken hand.

AS A FRESHMAN

Earned walk-on status, fulfilling his dream of playing for the Terps ... played in seven games, averaging 1.6 points an outing ... scored a career high seven points in the final home game of the season against Maryland-Eastern Shore ... was three for five in that game, including a three-point goal.

HIGH SCHOOL

Pikesville High School ... one of the top scorers in the history of Baltimore prep hoops ... led the state in scoring as a junior, averaging 28.7 a game ... averaged an impressive 24 points a game as a senior, when defenses were keyed to stop him ... selected all-metro by the Baltimore Sun ... he is the all-time leading scorer in PHS history with 1,614 career points ... his best game was a 46-point effort against Owing Mills ... as a first team All-America pick by the National Jewish Post & Opinion ... an outstanding all-around athlete ... he earned all-Baltimore County honors as a football quarterback and safety and as a lacrosse midfielder ... the quintessential student-athlete, winning both the school's Scholar-Athlete Award and Athlete of the Year trophy as a senior.

Mitch is the godson of former Outland Trophy Winner and NFL Hall of Famer Jim Parker, whose son, Dave, currently plays football for the Terps ... Kasoff is majoring in consumer economics.

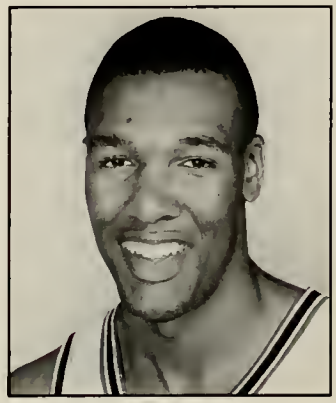
CEDRIC LEWIS



#43
Junior, Forward/Center
6-9, 223
Temple Hills, Maryland

ON LEWIS — Excellent defensive player, quite possibly the best post defender on the team ... has the potential to be among the best shot blockers in the nation ... he can be so active defensively in the paint that it allows his teammates to play tighter, riskier defense on the perimeter ... has on occasion played power forward, but he is most comfortable playing with his back to the basket in the center's position ... he could battle for a starting spot if Coach Williams decides to go with a big line-up ... the potential exists to have Lewis at center, Tony Massenburg and Jerrod Mustaf (6-9 and 6-10, respectively) at the forwards and 6-8 Walt Williams at guard, potentially giving the Terps one of the biggest line-ups in the conference ... whether he starts or comes in off the bench, though, he is expected to see considerable playing time this year providing he stays healthy ... Lewis has had to battle numerous injuries and illnesses in his career ... last season, he was felled by a severe ankle sprain which forced him to miss some midseason games ... as a freshman, mononucleosis kept him out of all but the first seven games of the year.

AS A SOPHOMORE

Played in 27 games, missing only midseason games at Georgia Tech and against Clemson after suffering a sprained ankle in practice ... averaged 13.8 minutes a game and posted a number of outstanding performances ... best all around game came at home against Morgan State, when he scored 11 points, grabbed five rebounds and had three blocks in 20 minutes ... in the Dean Dome against UNC, he had 10 points, five boards and two blocks in 18 minutes — his most productive outing of the year ... with a late-season injury to Jerrod Mustaf, he got the starting nod in the last regular season game at Virginia and responded with five points, 10 boards and four blocks in a career-high 36 minutes ... in two years he has established himself as one of the ACC's top shot blockers, finishing last season with 36 blocks — the sixth-best total in the ACC ... he averaged one block for every 10 minutes he was on the court as a sophomore ... he had six rejections against Maryland-Eastern Shore — a career high — and had at least two blocks in 10 games ... despite unorthodox shooting mechanics, Lewis shot 56.5 percent from the floor, evidence of his knowledge of range and of his own offensive limitations.

AS A FRESHMAN

Opened the season in a big way, garnering 33 minutes in the season opener against Loyola ... made the most of those minutes, scoring 10 points, grabbing four rebounds and blocking three shots against the Greyhounds ... averaged 2.0 points, 2.0 rebounds and just under two blocks a game in the team's first seven contests, starting two of those seven ... then contracted a severe case of mononucleosis as he missed the rest of the season.

HIGH SCHOOL

John Carroll High School ... averaged 27 points and nine rebounds as a senior ... had game highs that season of 25 points, 15 boards and 15 blocked shots ... was the national high school leader in blocks.

PERSONAL

Born Sept. 24, 1969 in Washington D.C ... he had a 30-inch vertical leap and a 195-pound bench during the fall conditioning tests ... his brother, Derrick, played for Maryland from 1984-88 and is the school's No. 8 career scorer and No. 2 all-time rebounder ... he played last year in the Continental Basketball Association ... Lewis is majoring in family studies.

JESSE MARTIN

Sophomore, Guard
6-4, 210
Roxbury, Massachusetts

ON MARTIN — A terrific natural athlete who should excel in Gary Williams fast-breaking style ... Martin has jumping and rebounding ability that belie this size and his outside shot has improved considerably from a year ago ... he will be given a look as the Terps fifth starter at the off guard position, where his outstanding penetrating ability best can be utilized ... runs the floor well and will be a key player in Maryland's new full court pressing defense ... with increased work on his ball handling, he also will be able to shift to the point, providing Maryland increased flexibility in its depth-lacking backcourt.

AS A FRESHMAN

Saw action in all but one game, averaging 7.8 minutes a contest ... averaged 2.8 points and 1.0 rebounds a game while seeing action at both guard positions ... best game of the year was at Clemson, where he scored 10 points, grabbed three rebounds and dished for two assists all in the first half ... he also scored in double figures at Virginia, when with starting point guard Greg Nared out with an injury, Martin played 15 minutes — one of his longest stints of the season — and finished with 10 points and an assist ... for the year, he was two of 15 from three-point range, but that total figures to increase this year as the players are given more offensive flexibility ... Martin is an aggressive rebounder, who finished the year with 29 boards, 14 on the offensive end.

HIGH SCHOOL

English High School ... averaged 19 points, 13 rebounds and four assists per game last year for 18-4 English, which won the City Championship ... didn't receive the notoriety he might have because of the system English ran, a motion offense which saw all five starters average in double figures ... nevertheless, as a senior he earned all-city, all-state and All-America honors ... all the more incredible is that Martin posted those numbers and earned those awards while playing as a 6-4 center ... three sport star for English, also lettering in football, and track ... was an all-city wide receiver and a 400-meters runner ... also served as President of the Senior Class.

PERSONAL

Born Nov. 22, 1968 in Boston ... he had a 31-inch vertical leap and a 185-pound bench press during the fall conditioning tests ... Martin is majoring in family studies.

#25
Senior, Forward/Center
6-9, 222
Sussex, Virginia

ON MASSENBURG — Came into his own a year ago as the team's leader both on and off the floor ... he is a likely nominee for all-ACC and All-America honors this year and certainly will be watched closely by the professional scouts ... this year, he will undoubtedly see action in all of the three frontcourt positions ... he has worked very hard on his outside shot and even mentioned to teammates that he has developed "three-point range" ... whether that is or is not the case, the majority of his action will take place in the paint, where his size and tremendous strength can serve him best ... no question he will be asked to assume a large portion of the leadership responsibilities for the team given that he is one of the Terps two seniors ... truly leads by example, excelling equally on the court and in the classroom ... Massenburg was honored last year as one of the Maryland student-athletes who earned a semester grade point average of 3.0/4.0 or better and was selected to the Athletic Director's Honor Roll.

AS A JUNIOR

Started every ballgame and was the team's leading scorer (16.6 points per game) and its leading rebounder (7.8 rebounds a game, tying with Jerrod Mustaf for team-high honors) ... he led the team in scoring 12 times and in rebounding 16 times and in both categories in the same game eight times ... he opened the season with a game-high 26 points against Texas Christian and closed it with a game-high 21 points against North Carolina in the ACC Tournament; in between, he hit for a career-high 30 points against Georgia Tech and scored at least 20 points on six other occasions ... eight times he posted double-doubles (double figures in points and rebounds in the same game) ... in the ACC, he ranked in the Top 10 in four categories — rebounding (4th overall), field goal percentage (.550, 4th overall), scoring (7th overall) and blocked shots (0.9 per game, 9th overall) ... for his trouble, Massenburg was named to the All-ACC Third Team as selected by the Associated Press and as a honorable mention All-ACC pick by the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association ... in tournaments, Massenburg made it a clean sweep of the honors, earning MVP and all-tournament at the Freedom Bowl Classic and all-tournament at both the Sun Bowl Classic and the ACC Tournament ... in fact, he was the fourth leading vote getter on the ACC All-Tournament ballot and the only player on the all-tournament first team not from Duke or North Carolina, the two teams in the finals ... in that tournament, Massenburg averaged 19.5 points and six rebounds a game ... best games: 27-point, 15-rebound, one block outing in a narrow loss to Louisiana State; 20-point, 13-rebound, two block, 44-minute performance in an overtime loss to Virginia ... some other impressive numbers from the season: 13 of 20 from the field against Maryland-Baltimore County; 12 of 19 from the field against Georgia Tech; 12 of 13 from the line against Texas Christian; career-high seven blocks against Maryland-Eastern Shore.

AS A SOPHOMORE

Sat out the fall semester — seven games — that season, then returned to the court with a vengeance ... scored a career-high 25 points (on eight of 11 field goal shooting), grabbed five rebounds and blocked four shots in his first game back against South Carolina ... averaged 10.1 points per game — one of five Maryland players to average in double figures — and grabbed 5.3 boards an outing ... numbers dropped off slightly in ACC action, nevertheless at season's end was generally regarded as one of the conference's comers and he fit the bill well as a junior ... twice he grabbed a season high 11 rebounds and nabbed 10 on one other occassion ... played in 23 games, starting 13 and averaging 27 minutes a game ... scored in double figures 15 times and led the team in scoring against South Carolina (25) and North Carolina State (16) ... led the team in rebounding eight times ... grabbed an offensive rebound and scored the ensuing layup with nine seconds to go against Clemson to put Maryland ahead for good.

AS A FRESHMAN

Sat out of action during the 1986-87 campaign, so his freshman season was 1985-86 ... was only the third player ever to start at center as a freshman under Coach "Lefty" Driesell ... played in 29 games, starting eight ... had season-highs of 14 points against Towson State and nine rebounds against Randolph-Macon.

HIGH SCHOOL

Sussex Central High School ... averaged 17.5 points, 12 rebounds and five blocks per game as a senior, riding those numbers to All-America mention by Associated Press, USA Today and the Richmond Times-Dispatch ... was all-state as a junior and senior and twice was named all-district and all-region ... also lettered in track as a hurdler and high jumper and in football as a tight end and safety.

PERSONAL

Born July 31, 1967 ... enjoys listening to music and considers himself a budding vocalist ... in the fall conditioning tests, he bench pressed 300 pounds, joining Jerrod Mustaf at the head of the Terp weightlifting class ... he combines that strength with a vertical jump of 30 1/2 inches, surely making him one of the most athletic players in the ACC ... Massenburg is majoring in family studies.

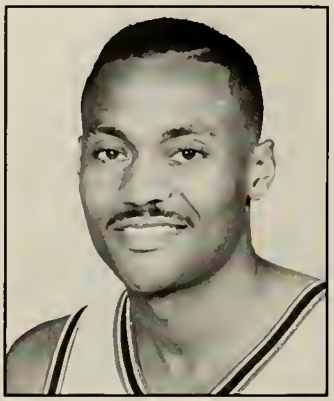
TEYON McCOY



#11
Junior, Guard
6-1, 172
Hammond, Indiana

ON McCOY — Returns to the squad this season after opting for a redshirt season last year to concentrate on academics ... he returns as the likely starter at point guard, given his exceptional ballhandling and dependable decision making ... he can stick the open jumper, but his quickness makes him a constant threat to drive ... defensively, he is one of the team's most active players and should fit into Gary Williams' scheme effectively ... the year off paid the desired dividends as he was accepted into Maryland's School of Business this past summer ... despite the layoff, he kept his basketball skills sharp and was selected to play with a team of ACC all-stars on a tour of Greece ... unfortunately, McCoy injured an ankle in a pick-up game the day before the team was due to depart and he was unable to make the trip.

AS A SOPHOMORE

Played in 31 games, starting eight ... averaged 5.3 points, 2.2 assists and 1.0 rebounds a game ... he scored in double figures six times, including in the season finale — an 11-point outing against Kentucky in the NCAA Tournament ... he averaged a three-point field goal per game and finished the season 32 of 72 (44 percent) from the arch ... he was 51.6 percent accurate from three-point distance in ACC games ... best game of the year was a 10-point, four-assist, two-rebound, zero-turnover effort against Notre Dame ... in that game, McCoy held All-America point guard David Rivers scoreless in the first half ... he had a season-high 15 points against Arkansas, leading the Terps to a huge upset win ... among the team's regulars, he had the best free throw shooting percentage, making good on 87.1 percent of his attempts ... in 12 games he was perfect from the line.

AS A FRESHMAN

Started all 26 games for the Terps his first season ... averaged 7.4 points, 4.3 assists and 1.9 rebounds a game ... as a frosh, he boasted a 4:1 assist to turnover ratio ... he shot 46 percent for the season and 45 percent from three-point range (36 of 80), which was fifth-best in the ACC ... his 111 assists was the eight-best total in the Conference and the best among freshman ... he twice was named ACC Rookie of the Week ... dished for a career-high eight assists against Maryland-Baltimore County and passed out five or more assists seven other times ... in the first game of his career, he scored nine points, had five assists, two rebounds and just one turnover against Winthrop ... his career high of 18 points against Georgia Tech came in unique fashion: on six of seven from three point ... for the season, he ranked among the team's top five in almost every positive statistical category.

#32
Sophomore, Forward
6-10, 244
Greenbelt, Maryland

ON MUSTAF — One of the country's best young big men, who has added weight and strength over the past year that should enable him to be a dominant inside force ... he is a likely candidate for all-conference honors ... at 6-10, 244 pounds, he is 19 pounds heavier than a year ago and his strength has shown a corresponding increase ... this fall, he bench pressed 300 pounds, approximately 120 more than his max bench a year ago ... always an excellent outside shooter for his size — he was four of 16 from three point range and a 10-foot baseline jumper was his signature shot a year ago — Mustaf now has the strength to battle opposing centers inside.

AS A FRESHMAN

The most dominant freshman in the history of Maryland basketball ... he had the highest scoring average of any Terp freshman since first year players became eligible in 1972 ... his 14.3 points per game edged John Lucas' 14.2 a game average in 1972-73 for that honor ... played in 26 games, starting 25 and averaged 14.3 points, 7.8 rebounds and shot 52 percent from the field ... his rebounding average tied him with Tony Massenburg for the team-best total ... he scored in double figures 20 times and totaled 20 or more points in two games — back-to-back 24-point outings at Georgia Tech and against Clemson ... he was in double figures in rebounds six times ... he was the team's leading scorer six times and its leading rebouder 13 times (including games in which he tied for team-high honors) ... six times he posted double-doubles (double figures in points and rebounds in the same game) ... in the ACC, he was the leading freshman rebounder (fourth overall), leading freshman shot blocker (9th overall) and the third leading freshman scorer (ninth overall) ... it is no wonder then, that Mustaf was runner-up for ACC Rookie of the Year ... three times he was the conference's Rookie of the Week and he finished the year as an honorable mention selection on the All-ACC Team ... best game: a 16-point, 14-rebound, two block, one steal outing against Lamar ... he also had a 24-point, three rebound, three steal, 40-minute performance at Georgia Tech, almost single-handedly keeping Maryland in the game ... he shot better than 60 percent from the floor in 16 games and made three point shots against South Carolina, North Carolina and in both games against Duke ... suffered a knee injury in practice prior to the final regular season game of the year and did not play in the team's final three outings ... underwent arthoscopic surgery on the knee after the season.

HIGH SCHOOL

DeMatha High School ... consensus prep All-America, gaining selection to the McDonald's Parade and Converse teams, among other ... named Metropolitan Player of the Year by the Washington Post ... averaged 22 points, 15 rebounds, and four blocks a game, leading renowned DeMatha High School to a 30-3 and the Washington city title ... also had an excellent junior season, averaging 16 points, 14 boards and four blocks per game ... DeMatha was ranked No. 1 in the state each of the past three years ... played varsity ball all four years.

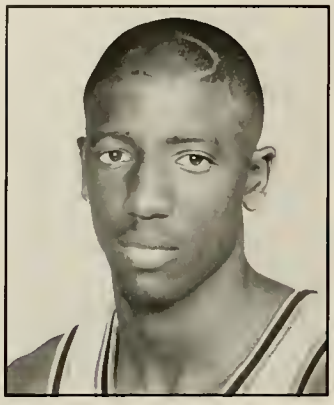
WALT WILLIAMS



#42
Sophomore, Forward/Guard
6-8, 203
Temple Hills, Maryland

ON WILLIAMS — Undeniably the most versatile player on the Terps' roster ... already in his young career, he has played point guard, off guard, wing forward and power forward ... he has a remarkable understanding of the game and seems to have an almost intuitive ability to be at the right place on the court at the right time ... his size, 6-8, allows Head Coach Gary Williams the flexibility to put Williams at guard and forge a big line up or put him at forward and post a speedy five-some ... he truly is ready to assume a role as one of the ACC's great players.

AS A FRESHMAN

Took just eight games to work into the starting lineup and once there it took a broken finger to remove him from the first five ... He played in 26 games, starting 12 and averaged 7.3 points and 3.5 rebounds a game — both fourth best on the team ... as a starter, he upped those averages to 9.7 points and 4.9 boards ... he scored in double figures eight times, including the first five games in which he was a starter ... he played varying roles throughout the season ... against North Carolina in the Dean Dome, he started at point guard, and finished with nine points, four rebounds and two assists ... at N.C. State, despite playing mostly small forward, he finished with a career-high eight assists ... best game: a 13-point, seven rebound, seven steal outing against North Carolina in the semifinals of the ACC Tournament ... he has good range on his shot, having gone seven of 27 from the three-point arch ... from the floor he shot 44.1 percent ... he broke his pinkie finger on his left hand against Missouri and missed the next three games, then returned and played with a huge splint for a few more games.

HIGH SCHOOL

Crossland High School ... averaged 22 points, 10 rebounds, five assists, five blocks and four steals per game for CHS his senior season ... beat out Maryland teammate Jerrod Mustaf for Metropolitan Player of the Year recognition by the Washington Times and the Prince George's (County) Journal ... earned recognition on various prep All-America squads, including the prestigious McDonald's team ... averaged 14 points and 10 boards a game as a junior ... led team to a 25-1 record last season — the loss coming in the state tournament championship game ... in fact, led high school team to three straight tournament championship game appearances ... team won the state title in 1986 and was runner-up again in 1987 ... in Williams' three years of varsity ball, Crossland had a combined record of 71-7 ... Williams' high school coach, Earl Hawkins, now coaches at Maryland-Baltimore County ... last year, Williams was injured for the Terps game against UMBC, but he will have a chance to play against his high school coach this season.

#24
Freshman, Forward
6-8, 205
College Park, Georgia

ON CHAMBERLAIN — A relative unknown who, like last year's sleeper recruit Walt Williams, could have a pronounced impact on the Terps this season ... extremely strong and exceptionally athletic despite a frame that is slimmer than any of his frontcourt mates ... like Williams, he may develop into a player that can play a number of positions.

ON McLINTON — A terrific all-around athlete who should be able to contribute to the Terps at either guard position ... he is a relative newcomer to organized hoops with just two years of varsity ball to his credit

HIGH SCHOOL

Springbrook High School ... he led SHS to a 43-6 two-year record and one state championship (1987-88 season) ... in his first year of varsity he started at power forward, averaged 12 point a game and led the team to the state title ... then as a senior, he was moved to point guard, where he directed the offense while scoring 19.5 points a game and adding seven rebounds and five assists an outing ... he was named to the Montgomery Journal's all-Metropolitian team and was a second team selection on the Washington Post's all-Met team ... McLinton has given all-new meaning to the term beginners luck: In his first year of varsity basketball, he led Springbrook to the state title, then last year, his first as part of an organized football team, he led Springbrook to the state football title ... in that football championship game, played at Maryland's Byrd Stadium, he returned an interception 99 yards for a score and ran for two other touchdowns ... he played his high school basketball for Coach John Barrett, a Maryland graduate.

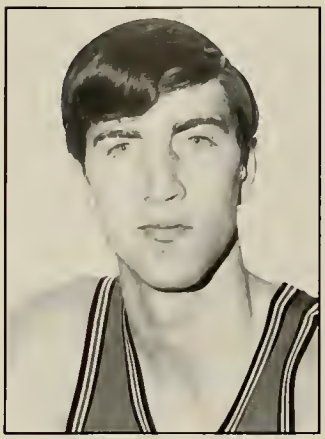
The ultimate individual reward in amateur athletics is to represent his or her country in international competition. And with the right timing, talent and dedication, international competition can mean participation in an Olympiad. Three Maryland basketball players have been fortunate enough to represent the United States at such a level, allowing Maryland Basketball to gain representation in three of the last four Olympiads.

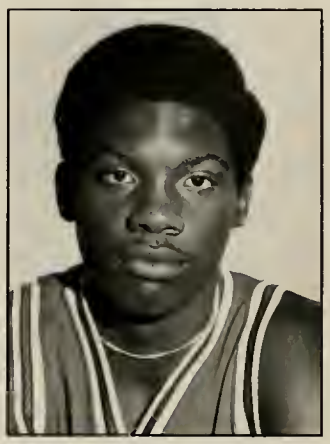
TOM McMILLEN



1972 U.S. Olympian
Silver Medalist

Maryland's No. 5 career scorer and cornerstone to the highly successful Terp teams from 1973-75, McMillen represented the U.S. in 1972, when Coach Henry Iba's team earned a Silver Medal. An Oxford Scholar who spent 10 seasons in the NBA, McMillen was elected Congressman of Maryland's 4th District in 1986.

STEVE SHEPPARD



1976 U.S. Olympian
Gold Medalist

Known as the "Bear" to Maryland fans for his ferocious play on three nationally ranked teams during the mid-70's, Sheppard played for North Carolina coach Dean Smith's gold-medal winning 1976 Olympic squad. Sheppard helped the United States to a clean sweep of competition in the Montreal Games, and later played for the Chicago Bulls in the NBA.

CHARLES "Buck" WILLIAMS

1980 U.S. Olympian

Maryland's No. 3 career rebounder,Williams was a member of the 1980 Olympic Team. That squad, along with all other U.S. teams did not participate in that summer's Moscow Olympics, but won four of six games against various NBA All-Star teams and defeated the 1976 gold-medal winning American team.

Tom McMillen was a member of the 1972 U.S. Olympic Team that earned a silver medal. That American squad lost in the final seconds to the Soviet Union in the still-controversial gold-medal game.

Steve Sheppard was one of seven ACC players who led the 1976 United States Olympic Team to the gold medal. That team, coached by the ACC's Dean Smith, did not lose a game in the tournament.

Buck Williams was at the top of his game in 1980, as was a talented United States Olympic squad. Unfortuntely, Williams and his teammates missed the Games because of the boycott.

Brad Davis, a Terp guard in the mid-1970s, now runs the show for the Dallas Mavericks.

A World Champion with the Los Angeles Lakers, Adrian Branch now is leading Portland toward the title.

The second-oldest player in the NBA, John Lucas recently signed on for two more years with the Houston Rockets.

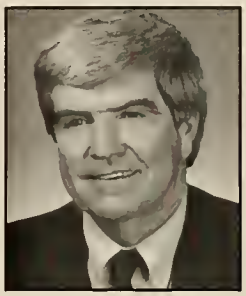
Terp Coaching Alums

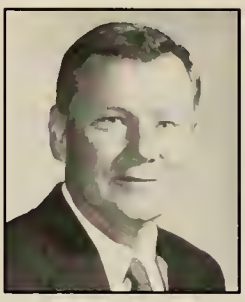
If Penn State is known for its linebackers, and Southern Cal for its tailbacks, Maryland surely is known for its basketball coaches. Consider that the coaches listed below all claim mail from the Maryland Alumni Office.



Dr. Tom Davis
Maryland Graduate Class of '68
Currently Head Coach
University of Iowa

Marty Fletcher
Maryland Class of '73
Currently Head Coach
Southwestern Louisiana

Joe Harrington
Maryland Class of '68
Currently Head Coach Cal State-Long Beach



Wayne Szoke
Maryland Class of '63
Currently Head Coach
Monmouth College

Terry Truax
Maryland Class of '68
Currently Head Coach
Towson State University

Gary Williams
Maryland Class of '68
Currently Head Coach
University of Maryland

Tom Young
Maryland Class of '58
Currently Head Coach Old Dominion University

Ironically, coaches Fletcher and Szoke did not play basketball at Maryland, but became highly successful collegiate coaches. Davis did not play at Maryland either, but coached here while earning his doctoral degree. Coaches Harrington, Truax, Williams and Young all played and lettered for Maryland.

The creation of the Academic Support Unit at Maryland puts the University commitment to the student-athlete front and center. It is important to the University that each student-athlete grow academically and graduate, and to that end Academic Support has as large a presence as any sport of program in the athletic department.

Dr. Gerald Gurney, Assocate Athletic Director for Academic Support and Compliance, oversees a jprogram of intensive assessment, skell developm,ent, and counseling that is offered to each student-athlete. Academic Support offers a comprehensive program for personal and academic development that includes the following:

Personal academic career assessment.
Tutoring
Supervised study.
Learning skill programs.
Academic monitoring.
Computer training and usage.
Career mentorship.
Summer internships.
Career awareness programs and job hunting.

Dr. Gurney joined Maryland in 1987 after tenures at Southern Methodist and Iowa State, institutions which were lauded for their nationally recognized academic support programs. Dr. Gurney earned his Ph.D. in higher education administration from Iowa State in 1980. He holds a master's degree in counseling and student personnel work, and a bachelor of science in English education, both from Ohio State University.

A hands-on director: Dr. Gerald Gurney heads the Academic Support Unit.

Working with him is a distinguished staff that includes:

Dr. Javaune Adams-Gaston coordinates the developmental services arm of the Unit, organizing the student-athlete orientation, drug education and career programs. A licensed clinical pyscholigist, Dr. Adams Gaston also coordinates the various counseling progams offered. She received her Ph.D. in counseling psychology from Iowa State in 1983.

John Bowman is coordinator of academic counseling, and he directs the monitoring of student-athlete progress. In following each student-athlete's progress towards a degree, he makes use of his 18 years of campus knowledge acquired as an academic advisor at College Park. Bowman received an M.A. degree in 1976 from Case Western Reserve University in education.

Bea Pray's responsibilities include student services and certification, housing, financial aid, and academic counseling. She coordinates the increasing flow of certification paperwork, and is in charge of special recognition awards such as the Atlantic Coast Conference Honor Roll, and Maryland's student honor roll. She has been at College Park since 1986, and earned a Master of Science in Education from Kansas State in 1975.

An Academic support staff member coordinates, trains and assigns the growing roster of over 100 tutors. They also oversee study sessions for the student-athlete and the athletic department book room. As part of the duties in tutoring, the department coordinates a computer program that makes available to the student-athlete immediate access to work time on personal computers.

These four specialists head an Academic Support Unit that includes over 75 personnel. Maryland's commitment in academic support is second to none.

The computer lab offers students training on the latest equipment.

The Academic Support Unit assists all student-athletes in Maryland's 23-sport athletic program.

Terp Strength and Conditioning

Preparing an athlete to play a particular sport is the mission of the Strength and Conditioning program at Maryland. Proper training leads to more confidence on the athlete's part, and translates into a competitive, ready Terrapin.

Strength and Conditioning is directed by Frank Costello, an extraordinary competitor and coach. As a Terrapin undergraduate, he was the third ranked high jumper in the world, NCAA Champion and four-time All-America. As a coach he led Maryland to both the IC4A Indoor and Outdoor team titles and was NCAA District Coach of the Year. Maryland's Strength and Conditioning Coordinator since 1981, Costello coaches the whole athlete. He is one of the leading authorities on the dangers of drug abuse in his profession, and is a frequent guest on network television explaining the dangers of taking shortcuts to enhance the body.

Costello and assistants Dave Pacella and Steve Wetzel begin the road to physically preparing an athlete to play their sport by conferring with the sport's coach, and then testing and evaluating the individual. Weight training, speed training, flexibility training—all could be part of a balanced prescription to excel, depending on the sport.

Pacella is one of the great offensive lineman in Maryland history and a professional football veteran. He is one of three Terps in ACC history to win the Jacobs Blocking Trophy, awarded by the league to its outstanding lineman at season's end. Wetzel set the Drug Free Collegiate bench press record of 385 pounds (165 pound class) while at Slippery Rock, and he teaches strength and conditioning classes at Montgomery Junior College.

Maryland's commitment to strength and conditioning grows with the explosion of interest among athletes and coaches. Men's and women's sports, team and individual competition—every sport is involved. Two weight rooms now exist, with the facility expansion and refurbishment under The Maryland Partnership promising even better facilities in the future.

Maryland Broadcast Group

The Maryland Broadcast Group will once again bring Terrapin fans the most comprehensive coverage of Maryland basketball via a 23-station network.

The flagship of the network is Washington D.C.'s WMAL, which will feed the signal over a network reaching Pennsylvania, all corners of the state of Maryland and the District of Columbia. Each game, play-by-play announcer Johnny Holliday and color commentator Greg Manning will set up the action with an informative pre-game show, provide special analysis during halftime and post-game shows and bring tip off-to-final buzzer game action. Head Coach Gary Williams will be heard as part of the pre-game show and his post-game comments will be aired immediately after each game.

Holliday is beginning his 11th year as the "Voice of Terrapin Basketball." A nationally recognized radio personality, Holliday's credentials include ABC Radio work at the most recent Summer and Winter Olympics, weekly stints during football season as the "Voice of Terrapin Football" and on the Washington Redskins Radio Network as well his daily sports shows from WMAL. He also frequently can be seen on the Home Team Sports cable network as host of the Maryland Coaches Corner show. This year, his television role will be expanded as he will handle play-by-play on an increased number of Atlantic Coast Conference Television Network basketball games.

Holliday and his wife, Mary Clare, are the parents of three daughters: Kellie, 29, Tracie, 26, and Moira, 11.

Holliday's sidekick in the basketball booth has first hand knowledge of Maryland hoops. Manning played for the Terps from 1978-81, earning All-ACC Tournament in the 1980 Classic. A four-year starter, Manning always found time to concentrate of his academic pursuits, earning Academic All-ACC three times, Academic All-America once and finally earning a NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship upon graduation. He is entering his third season as the color commentator for the Terps.

Manning and his wife, Cathy, have one son, Greg, Jr., 4, and at presstime were expecting a girl any day.
